Ansible® 441 April 2024

From David Langford, 94 London Road, Reading, Berks, RG1 5AU, UK. Website news.ansible.uk. ISSN 0265-9816 (print); 1740-942X (e). Logo: Dan Steffan. Cartoon: Atom, from 1984. Available for SAE, or average air speed of the solitary oesophagus.

Levitation, the Telford Eastercon, is now over. Good times were reportedly had, both virtually and by 450+ on-site attendees. ● The BSFA Awards: ARTWORK cover by Leo Nickolls for The Surviving Sky by Kritika H. Rao. AUDIO FICTION The Dex Legacy by Emily Inkpen. COLLECTION Best of British SF 2022 ed. Donna Scott. FOR YOUNGER READERS. The Library of Broken Worlds by Alaya Dawn Johnson. NONFICTION (LONG) A Traveller in Time: The Critical Practice of Maureen Kincaid Speller ed. Nina Allan. NONFICTION (SHORT) Project Management Lessons from Rogue One by Fiona Moore. NOVEL The Green Man's Quarry by Juliet McKenna. SHORT 'How to Raise a Kraken in Your Bathub' by P. Djèli Clark. SHORTER And Put Away Childish Things by Adrian Tchaikovsky. TRANSLATED SHORTER FICTION 'Vanishing Tracks in the Sand' by Jana Bianchi, trans. Rachael Amoroso. ● Exclusion Act. One officially unnamed fan, understood to be Dave McCarty of 2023 Hugo infamy, tried to join at the door and was turned away. Why? Chorus: 'The rules we must follow.' For commentary see File 770 (30 March). ● Eastercon 2026: a bid from Phil Dyson and the Reclamation 2022 team is taking shape. ● Thirst! The real ale traditionally ran out circa 4pm on Sunday. ● Doc Weir Award, causing great bogglement at Ansible HQ: David Langford. Many thanks, kind voters!

The Mysterious Stranger

Natasha Bardon of HarperVoyager and Magpie declined her Hugo nomination – Best Editor, Long Form – largely owing to 'the censorship in 2023'. Other refuseniks are Martha Wells (Novel; see Awards below), Hai Ya (Novelette), Bigolas Dickolas Wolfwood (tweets in Related Work) and Camestros Felapton (Fan Writer, just 'skipping this year').

David V. Barrett looked back to his 2015 triumph when The Book-seller ran a quarter-page apology from the author (academic Stephen J. Hunt) and publisher of a book that extensively plagiarized his 1996 Sects, Cults and Alternative Religions; all copies were to be destroyed. Alas, he discovered that Routledge had since taken over the offending publisher and reissued the 'forever withdrawn' title in their Routledge Revivals series. 'Emails are now flying around....' (Facebook, 14 March)

Donato Giancola was not happy to find a figure from his Cyberpunk 2020: Ravens painting recycled (flipped left/right, crudely modified) on a Magic: The Gathering card by Fay Dalton. 'Copied and pasted. This is not about "similarities", this is about direct copying.' (Facebook, 26 March) The card's other character came from a 1958 thriller magazine cover. Wizards of the Coast responded: 'As we have looked into this further, we're now suspending future work with Fay Dalton.' (29 March)

Gregory Manchess received the Chesley life achievement award for his career in genre art. For all Chesley winners see File 770 (29 March).

Bryan Talbot is one of the 2024 inductees into the Will Eisner Award Hall of Fame for life achievement in comics work.

Infinitely Improbable

As We Saw Ourselves. John Christopher fretted about sf morality in the 1950s: 'Quite apart from those magazines whose chief and obvious preoccupation is a mixing of sex with science fiction, what should be the honest core of the field is riddled with this form of nastiness. One of the leading science-fiction magazines in America regularly publishes material of an unpleasant nature. In a copy recently encountered of one of the American second-string magazines, there was a story whose theme was simply that of incest. One of the leading British fantasy magazines appears every issue with a "cheese-cake" cover.' (Authentic SF, April 1953) [GP]

The Dead Past. 40 Years Ago, Wm. Gibson regretted the 'indefinite postponement of the fanzine-of-comment promised to British faneditors who so generously posted their product down the black hole of my Professional Activity: I was midway through the more or less final draft of ENDLESS FUCKING NEUROMANCER, and I'd read them and promise I'd Do Something About It as soon as I was through the damn book. Some six months later, having signed two more contracts (Count Zero for Ace, Log of the Mustang Sally for Arbor), I see where I slipped up.' (Ansible 38, Easter 1984) ● 30 Years Ago, an award non-scandal: 'The [UK Eastercon] committee let slip that "Ansible had more Eastercon Award nominations than the rest of the Short Text category put together; we decided you were ineligible 'cos you won it last year."' (Ansible 81, April 1994)

Small Press. Julie Ann Dawson's Bards and Sages Publishing closed down on 6 March, both for health reasons and because of the relentless flood of 'AI-generated trash' submissions. (www.bardsandsages.com)

Fanfunder. Get Up and Over Fan Fund (GUFF): the 2024 northbound race from Oceania to the Glasgow Worldcon is now on, with candidates Kat Clay and Ian Nichols, both from Australia. Voting closes on 22 April, 23:59 BST. See taff.org.uk/guff.html for links to the PDF ballot and online voting form. ● TransAtlantic Fan Fund: voting in the 2024 race ends on 2 April. See taff.org.uk. ● European Fan Fund: voting in the 2024 race ended on 1 April. Results soon at fandomover.com/category/eff/. ● TAFF Books. Currently being proofread for taff.org.uk: Rob Hansen's much expanded Challenging Moskowitz (see A440) and my new compilation of all the New Worlds author/artist/etc profiles published by John Carnell 1952-1963. Many thanks to Mike Moorcock for approving the latter.

Thog's Masterclass. Simile or Bust! 'Helen, with the breasts like clouds ...' 'Her breasts are like mounds of chicken fat.' (both Philip K. Dick and Roger Zelazny, Deus Irae, 1976) [FM] 'Her breasts were like the bags of sand that keep the scenery in place in the school play.' (Rowan Somerville, Shape of Her, 2011) [AR] ● Male Gaze Dept. 'She said something to him, but he was not listening, his eyes campaigning over her buttocks.' (Ibid) [AR] ● Escape Velocity. 'It was for a sum much larger than Fleet had ever seen written on a cheque before, and it took some concentration to prevent his eyebrows flying off the top of his head.' (Chris & Jen Sugden, High Vaultage, 2024) [DVB] ● The Charwoman's Shadow. '[He] had become enamoured of the dainty Portugese girl, and was making swift love to her daily.' (Robert E. Howard, 'Wolfshhead', 1926) [JO] ● Deadly Hands Dept. "'How do you do?'" Zimmer said, and extended his hand. His grip was like a moray eel's.' (Ed McBain, The Last Dance, 2000) [PL]
